SPORTS ASSOCIATION RECEIVES $1,004.

Community sports received a much needed shot in the arm last Thursday night when Coleman Board of Trade decided to turn over a cheque for $1,004.20 to the Coleman Community Sports Association as result of Rodeo earnings. This decision came at a time when the Association were starting their annual membership drive and faced with the problem of maintaining sports facilities here with diminishing membership. Going to the Sports Association, this money will be devoted to local projects for local children.

J. R. Hill directed the meeting which found the Board to still be without a president, and on the motion of Mayor Abousafy Rolie was appointed president pro-tem until a new slate of officers were elected. Welcomes were extended Beecher Wilson, Al Krywolt and Police Chief Corson.

Correspondence included a letter from Padre Moss who informed the Board of the work being performed by the local Welfare Board and the important part that could be played by the Board of Trade. The meeting decided that Mr. Moss should be asked to address the Board on this work.

The part that Blairmore has played in supporting the annual Coleman Rodeo parade was discussed with considerable praise extended our neighbor to the east. All members felt that this support should be recognized and Coleman support the annual Winter Carnival. It was decided that a float should be entered by the Board, Chief Corson, J. Owen and Rudy Yelica appointed as a committee. Suitable signs for the eastern approach to Coleman was discussed with the decision to contact Joe Hanrahan regarding the provincial government's intentions.

Attention was drawn to the fact that Mines Minister Prudham was speaking at a supper meeting in Blairmore Tuesday night and that 20 tickets had been allotted to Coleman. Many members purchased tickets during the meeting.

Harry Boulton drew the attention of the members to the fact that at this time the government was preparing its plans and allocating money for various projects. He suggested that they be asked to build scenic roads in this area, thus increasing facilities for the growing tourist industry and provide work for the unemployed.

From this point of the meeting members discussed the annual rodeo report, and the car bingo report, expressing the feeling that the entire production had been worthwhile. Mayor Abousafy suggested that a financial report be published when ready.

At the conclusion of considerable talk, it was decided to retain $750 towards next year's show and present the Sports Association with $817.30, which coupled with their equal share of Bingo proceeds would make a total of $1,004.20. Expressions of thank were extended various organizations and individuals for their work in the rodeo. Chief Corson thanked for producing the best parade in the history of the event, and Adam Wilson for his unpublicized support by seeing to the comforts of Princess Wapiti and the contribution to the Coleman Pipe Band; letters will be sent to many others.

It was decided to hold another rodeo next year and plans for improvement have already been advanced. Under consideration at future meetings will be the proposal to have a good midway on the field and turn the concessions over to them on a rental and percentage basis.

Fire Prevention Essay Contest

Essay contest for Fire Prevention week has been sponsored in both Coleman schools by the Coleman Volunteer Fire Department. First, second and third prize essays will be picked in each of grades 4, 6, 8 and 9, and a first prize only for each of grades 7, 8 and 9, and a first and second prize for each of grades 10, 11 and 12.

One of the prize winning essays will be published in the Journal as a sample of the prize winning works.

An election of officers was held naming officers to head the organization with T. J. Williams Sr. of Blairmore appointed head of the group First vice-president will be Dr. F. Russell of Blairmore, second vice-president, Miss Helen Clemis RN, matron of the Crow's Nest Pass Municipal hospital and secretary-treasurer Mrs. Phyllis Wojtula, RN, of Hillcrest.

Charles Gilmar of Blairmore, was appointed as chairman of the welfare committee while chairman of the education committee will be Mrs. Kay Kerr of Frank. A further meeting will be held at an early date for the purpose of electing council members from Beaver Mines, Burnis, Bellevue and Coleman.

A film on cancer was shown by Mr. Anderson of the Calgary Society who fully explained the film which dealt with cancer and work being done today in cancer research.

Mrs. Drope of the Lethbridge branch of the Cancer Society was also present and gave an interesting talk on how the money collected in various campaigns is spent.

Both speakers were given a vote of thanks for their interesting address.

Track Meet Tomorrow Features School Athletes

The first revived track meet for Coleman students will take place at the Sports Field Friday afternoon. Coaches T. Collister and R. Spillers have spent considerable time with the young athletes and have come up with a complete program for the day. Track meets are an important and interesting part of school life here a few years ago and it is hoped that this year's meet will see more extensive plans for the future and other Pass towns taking part. A record book will be kept in all events, and it is proposed that non-sporting athletes be entered in outside events next year.

Events for boys will include 75 yd, 100 yd, 220 yd, and 440 yard races, 90 yard hurdles, high jump, broad jump, pole vault and shot put. For the girls there will be 75 and 100 yard races, hurdles, high jump, broad jump, and baseball throw.

To see is to live. But to see well is to live better. Make sure your child sees well so that he can learn well.

Entries Pour In For Moose Safety Contest

Schultz and Don McNeill, popular radio and television m.c. of the famed Breakfast Club Show. Also the Blairmore lodge will present the local winner with a medal suitably engraved. But more important the local winner will have an opportunity to compete with more than 1,700 other local winners throughout North America for the four grand prizes.

These grand prizes include, free all expense round trips to either New York or Chicago to appear on a coast to coast radio and television show, gold wrist watches, proposed trips to Washington, D.C., for a visit to the White House.

All entries must be submitted, either by the contestant himself, his parents, neighbors, friends or civic authorities before October 1st the deadline of the contest. The entries should be brought or mailed to Victor Belik, Hillcrest, Alberta for consideration by the judges.

Mrs. J. Park Laid To Rest

Members of the Minerva Chapter, Order of Eastern Star paid respects to departed sister Mrs. J. Park Tuesday conducting their services at the Funeral Home at 2.15. Funeral services followed in St. Alban's Anglican church conducted by Rev. H. Moss. Burial was made in Union cemetery.

Pallbearers were H. Holmes, C. Freeman, H. Weltens, G. Jenkins, S. Murdoch and J. Bayon.

Elizabeth Adamson Robb, beloved wife of James Park, was suddenly taken ill Sept. 17th and taken to the local hospital. Her passing early Sunday morning came as a great shock to the many friends that she has made during her life here, and the esteem in which she was held was testified to by the closing of all local business places and by the large cortege that proceeded to the graveside.

Born at Bankhead, Aberdeenshire Scotland on Oct. 15 1910, deceased was married to J. Park at Aberdeen on Aug. 17 1932, coming that year to reside in Coleman. She was a member of the Order of Eastern Star, St. Alban's Anglican Church and Womens Association and of the Ladies curling club.

Surviving to mourn her loss are her husband, two sons Robert and Brian and a daughter Janice, a sister Mary in Aberdeen and a brother George in Birmingham, Eng.

WHAT WILL COLEMAN DO FOR ALBERTA'S GOLDEN JUBILEE?

Nothing has been heard yet as to Coleman's plans for marking the Golden Jubilee of the Province of Alberta next summer.

Towns and villages throughout the province are reported formulating plans for the observance of this special occasion which is expected to draw increased numbers of tourists. The province itself has announced several functions and projects but are relying upon local communities to hold events of their own to add to the Golden Year.

Having marked the golden anniversary of the town of Coleman just two years ago, we in Coleman have already had a go at such a project, and can benefit from the mistakes we have made in the past to put on a better show this time. Suffering from adverse publicity and considered by many to be relegated to the ranks of a ghost town Coleman has in this project the chance to show the rest of the province that we still exist and are capable of carrying on.

OBSERVE

Fire Prevention Week

OCTOBER 3 to 9

and prevent fires EVERY WEEK of the year!

Next week, special work will be undertaken by the Provincial Fire Commissioner and by all Fire Departments throughout Alberta, to renew preparedness against loss of life and material resources from the ravages of fire.

As a service to your community, firemen are in search of these killers. Last year 64 people died in Alberta from fire. Most lives sacrificed to fire are traced to these dangerous conditions.

Guard Against These Killers

Kerosene or Gasoline misused to light fires.
Gasoline handled in open containers or glass containers.
Home Dry Cleaning with gasoline and flammable solvents.
Careless parents leaving children alone at home.
Careless smoking habits—smoking in bed.
Overheated stoves and smoke pipes in dwellings.
Allowing rubbish to pile up in basement or attic.
Matches in hands of small children.

By starting now and calling each and every organization and club to assist, we can promote a program that will be second to none in the province. An early start means obtaining the services of bands, dignitaries, and other facilities that we may desire before some other community signs them up.

"WARNING"

"Each year the Canadian National Institute for the Blind is approached by citizens throughout Alberta as to the validity of individuals collecting allegedly on behalf of blind persons, and while the CNIB has no monopoly on funds donated by a willing public, it is imperative that the general public recognise that The Canadian National Institute for the Blind is the only service agency for the blind in this Province. The CNIB is authorized under the Alberta Public Contributions Act, and as such, is the only authorized agency serving blind people in this Province. The public should therefore be cautious when they are approached for donations for blind welfare."

The CNIB campaign is to be conducted during the month of October by volunteer canvassers in villages, towns and cities (other than in centres where there is a community chest, in which CNIB participates). These volunteers should be asked by the public to show their CNIB credentials."

SLIDING SCALE FOR UNEMPLOYMENT INSUR

AUTHORITATIVE REPORTS from Ottawa indicate unemployment benefit payments will be put on a sliding-scale basis, so that the more a man was getting when at work, the more he will be paid when out of work.

This, of course, will only encourage high-wage workers to remain idle when — often because of those high wages — they are laid off. It will also discourage them from saving any of their high wages against the possibility of unemployment. At the same time, it will create a kind of class system among the unemployed, with jobless auto workers, for example, living much more comfortably than jobless ditch-diggers.

WHEN BABY bonuses and working wives are taken into account, sliding scale system planned by Ottawa could result in high-wage workers finding it almost as profitable to stay home as to work at their regular jobs, and more profitable than working at others.

TEACHERS SALARIES

LAMENTS OF TEACHERS that they are grossly underpaid should not be taken too seriously, in light of DBS report which shows that across Canada last year they got an average of $2510, twice as much as in 1945, three times as much as before the war. Furthermore, they have less training than before the war.

Highest average is in B.C. at $3510, with Alberta second at $2781, Ontario third at $2771, Saskatchewan is fifth at $2132 — a warning to teachers who think (as many Saskatchewan teachers thought) that Socialism will improve their lot. Best paid, by cities, are Toronto teachers, averaging $4767 for men, $3733 for women.

Higher economic status for teachers remains desirable, if accompanied by higher standards of selection and training. Right way to give them such a status is not by raising their salaries, but by reducing the excessive wages now being paid in occupations which are less important and require fewer qualifications.

Annual Rural Fund-Raising Campaign
October 1 to October 31, 1954

"One good thing about all the leisure time we have these days, is that we can share it with the handicapped, such as the sightless," observed Mr. R. V. Hewlett, Executive Officer of The Canadian National Institute for the Blind in southern Alberta.

"Thanks to CNIB, the sightless of 1954 do not sit alone in a corner, but step out in the company of a friend or a volunteer guide for a social, a musicale, or a game of bingo," he said. "Not only that, the executives of their clubs and associations are drawn from the blind." He spoke of the 48 clubs of the sightless financed by CNIB with no other purpose than to provide recreation for the blind, an opportunity to learn business procedure, and to develop a means of conducting their affairs under blindness.

He explained that there are bowling leagues with a Canada-wide competition every spring, with scores that make sighted bowlers envious. The blind enjoy sleigh rides along a quiet country road, where they can lean on and off the sleigh with ease, and follow the sound of the sleigh-bells. Square and modern dancing are popular, and, by means of Braille playing cards, they are masters of all the regular games from bridge to cribbage.

"In the summer CNIB provides a round of out-door activities to meet every taste," Mr. Hewlett continued. Several summer camps across the Dominion offer a ten-day holiday to a large number of sightless people who would not be able to have one otherwise," he said. "The freedom, relaxed living, and happy companionship from into the short period at the camps, an adjustment to blindness that would take years of training in the private home."

"It is simply because recreation is such an effective means of adjustment, of combating the handicap, that CNIB builds it into its program. Your donation to the current financial campaign supports this important service, a service that restores the blind so splendidly to pleasant living."

The campaign in your district will be held from October 1st to 31st, if you do not reside in a Community Chest centre. CNIB participates in all Community Chest centres throughout the southern Alberta district.

Give as much as you can when the canvasser calls, or mail your contribution to: The Canadian National Institute for the Blind, 406-18th Ave. N.W., Calgary, Alberta.

A chap was telling us the other day about a youngster in northern Saskatchewan that had lost practically all his baby teeth by the age of six. When new molars were slow in coming the dentist father outfitted junior with a set of false teeth. The story goes that the youngster started school that fall wearing the store teeth, with the result that nearly every youngster in the school demanded that their parents buy false teeth for them.

A PLEA.

A local man read the work of Winston Churchill regarding the war and was particularly interested in the part of the sinking of the German ship Scharnhorst, mainly because he knew that Coleman's Tony Cocoloni served on one of the British ships credited with the kill. Talking to Tony about the report the man is reported to have said that he failed to see any mention of Tony's part, to which Tony is reported to have replied that this was due chiefly to the fact that Churchill couldn't spell his last name.

THEATRE NOTES

"Escape From Fort Bravo"

William Holden, cavalry captain attached to Fort Bravo, a union stronghold in Arizona territory, is feared for his brutality. The fort houses Confederate prisoners and the commander is afraid that an Indian uprising may force him to arm the rebels. Eleanor Parker arrives to attend the wedding of her friend, Polly Bergen, daughter of the commandant, and soon captivates everyone — even Holden — who reveals to her his loneliness and disillusionment. He does not know that Eleanor is a southern sympathizer, and his bitterness increases when she plots to help the rebel prisoners escape. Holden rescues the fugitives, but enroute back to the fort they are ambushed by Indians. Eleanor summons aid from the fort, Holden and one other survivor are rescued, and Holden and Eleanor pledge their love.

"Walking My Baby Back Home"

Discharged after service in World War II, Donald O'Connor lays enthusiastic plans to continue in civilian life the impromptu orchestra he formed while in the army, the plan being to have Janet Leigh, a WAC sergeant, as the singer. Janet, however, walks out, and O'Connor learns he is due to inherit his grandfather's fortune if he makes good as a singer at a public concert. Donald uses an advance on the inheritance to form his band, but it flops. He and his pianist join a minstrel troupe with whom Janet is appearing, but this show also is forced to disband. Next Donald reorganizes his old band, then learns his family has set him to make his singing debut. On the night of the concert he is rescued at the last minute by his orchestra, and the critics are so enthused that they hail Donald as a musical genius.

"Those Redheads From Seattle"

Gene Barry operates a thriving club featuring music, girls and gambling in Dawson, Alaska, where the newspaper owner, Frank Wilcox, is conducting a cleanup campaign aimed directly at Barry's bistro. Unknown to Barry, Wilcox is slain by Barry's manager — a terrible blow to the dead man's widow and three pretty daughters, who have arrived from Seattle for a surprise visit. Barry falls in love with Rhonda Fleming, one of the daughters, while Rhonda's sister, Teresa Brewer, gets a singing job in Gene's club. Mistakenly informed that Gene was responsible for her father's death, Rhonda quarrels with him and determines to have him run out of town. Gene sells his club, tracks down the man who murdered Wilcox and clears himself of suspicion, at which point of course, he and Rhonda are reconciled.

Cornex - Ranson

St. Michael's Roman Catholic Church was the setting of the early autumn wedding recently of Marwood Ranson, only daughter of Mr. H. Ranson and the late Mrs. Ranson, and Andrew Cornex, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Cornex of Coleman. Beautiful bouquets of white and crimson gladioli decorated the altar; the pews were marked with blue and white gladioli. The Nuptial Mass was offered by Father McGreavy of Coleman and assisted by Father Labonte of Pincher Creek.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of guipure lace and tulle over slipper satin. A satin and net halo held her full-length veil of nylon net. She carried a sheaf of blue and white carnations.

Miss Helen Desbiers, gowned in deep turquoise taffeta, was her bridesmaid. She carried a colonial bouquet of mixed autumn flowers.

Mr. Walter Graf of Coleman attended the groom; Ian Thompson and Gerald Stuckey ushered the guests. The soloist, Mr. Douglas Primeau, sang "A Consecration" and "On This Day." The organist was Miss Mary Rosenauer.

Following the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served to seventy guests at St. Michael's Parish Hall. The brides sister-in-law, Mrs. V. Ranson, assisted the bridal party in receiving the guests. She wore a navy afternoon dress complemented by a corsage of Talsman roses. The groom's mother wore a royal blue dress with pink Sweetheart roses.

Gerald Stuckey, as master of ceremonies, introduced Father Labonte, who gave the toast to the bride.

For her going away costume the bride wore a blue linen sheath dress with matching jacket and white accessories. Her corsage was white carnations.

Following a honeymoon through the western states Mr. and Mrs. Cornex will reside in Coleman.

COLEMAN PHARMACY

OCTOBER 3rd to 9th FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Now is the time to start a good habit — fire prevention. Always be on watch for fire hazards. Your Fire Department has a big job to do in its Fire Inspection Service and training and equipping firemen for adequate control. But you must help. Fire feeds on careless deeds, so help eliminate the common causes of fire.

PLEASE —

- Do not smoke in bed or dispose of cigarettes carelessly.
- Do not put ashes in wooden or paper container.
- Do not bring gasoline or kerosene into the home.
- Do not take chances with faulty electric wiring faulty chimneys and stovepipes.
- Do not allow rubbish to pile up in basement or attic.

REMEMBER —

A careful person seldom has a fire; a clean orderly place seldom burns.

Personalities IN THE NEWS

Next week's issue of the Journal will be the annual Fire Prevention issue.

David Neale is employed as delivery boy at Allans store.

Last week's Vancouver Sun carried a beautiful picture of Sleeping Giant Mountain and a scene of a herd of Harry Boultons cattle grazing on his land.

On September 22nd a delightful tea was held at the home of Mrs. Ernest Hill. Mrs. Hill has visited many of the states across the line as official representative of the Pythian Sisters and had on display souvenirs of her trips including some of the famed blue grass of Kentucky.

Miss Ada Richards left last week to enter the University of Alberta at Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Willets of Calgary visited with Mrs. C. Roggiani and other friends in Coleman.

The St. Albans W.A. are holding a Rummage Sale on Saturday Oct. 23 starting at 2 p.m. Donations will be gratefully received.

Mrs. Wilson of Prince George, B.C. is visiting her sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. H. Parkinson. Mrs. Wilson and the late Mr. Wilson resided in Coleman for many years.

Mrs. R. Lingard, of Prince Albert, Sask. is visiting with her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lingard.

NOTICE. Brownie meetings will start again on Monday, October 4th. Meetings will be held in the Salvation Army hall after school.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cousins of Lethbridge visited relatives here over the weekend. Mr. Cousins was on the teaching staff here for many years, and widely known for his musical abilities.

Nelson Bernard has been confined to his home with rheumatic fever.

Mr. Wm. Gate, accompanied by Tony Servella of Fernie left for Cleveland, Ohio to attend the World Series. Bill has been an enthusiastic sport for many years.

Mrs. W. Pettifor of High River is visiting her daughter Mrs. K. Powlyk.

Mr. Leslie Owen is holidaying at Powell River B.C.

Mrs. M. McRea of Nelson is visiting her son and daughter in law Mr. and Mrs. S. Murdoch.

The Fall Bazaar of the Goodwill W. A. of St. Paul's United Church will be held Saturday, Nov. 27th in the Club rooms.

Mrs. G. MacDonald visited her father Mr. Seth Raymond who is a patient in the Holy Cross Hospital in Calgary.

Mr. W. Antrobus has returned from visiting with his daughter at Powell River, BC. Returning with a copy of the special paper published on the opening of the new highway from Vancouver to Powell River. Mr. Antrobus states that the large mill is expanding rapidly and plenty of work may be found all along the coast line.
